

INGALLS ON THE ITALIAN QUESTION.

Ex-Senator J. J. Ingalls of Kansas has written a long article on the complications growing out of the New Orleans affair. He says the massacre of the prisoners was ferocious, truculent, savage and deplorable, but the blow fell upon its victims, not because they were Italians, but because they were the incorrigible enemies of social order and the safety of the State. "The Courts of Judge Lynch," says the Senator, "are informal, prompt and inexpensive; they are the tribunals of last resort, and their verdicts are generally just. Fewer innocent men have been hanged or shot by mobs in the last century than have perished on the scaffold under due sentence of law. The action of the Italian Government in recalling Baron Fava in advance of judicial inquiry by the authorities of Louisiana and demanding assurances of reparation and indemnity from the Government of the United States before any liability has been ascertained was petulant and undignified. Ignorance of the methods and centrifugal and centrifugal forces of the Constitution in the Marquis di Rudini might be excused when it is remembered that so many of our own citizens are unfamiliar with the provisions of our organic law, but the suggestion of an amendment to the American Ministry, if made as reported, was offensively impertinent.

"The diplomatic incident is like an operatic rehearsal, with its cheap hero and tawdry chorus. It vividly recalls General Boon, as he swaggers, boggle-eyed, with rubicund nose and dyed mustache, across the stage and declaiming the tendered courtesy of a snuff-box, discharges his pistol in the flies and inhales sulphurous smoke from the muzzle with convulsive snorts of savage satisfaction.

"The Italian Government is in the position of a gentleman who, supposing there is a chair behind him, sits down upon the floor. The spectators are by politeness compelled to express concern, but it is with difficulty they restrain their mirth. The Marquis can now get up and dust himself at his leisure. In continuing correspondence with the Government of his Majesty the occasion is favorable for Mr. Blaine to intimate, if permitted by the etiquette of diplomacy, that from a nation where brigandage is an established and recognized industry and pauperism an organized institution, this spasm of indignation is conspicuously inopportune and suggests a domestic crisis rather than foreign complication. He might say, and also with the applause of the American people, that the contributions from Italy to our citizenship are largely undesirable. There are honorable exceptions, but the bulk of Italian immigrants would make good strangers. For centuries we have not been insisting upon the doctrine of expatriation. The fathers declared that this country was a refuge for the oppressed. We have all sung 'Hail Columbia' and 'Yankee Doodle,' and made every day in the calendar the 4th of July, till we find ourselves suddenly confronted with an appalling emergency. The public domain is practically exhausted, and there are no more free homes on the prairies of the West. The crisis predicted by Macaulay is upon us, and the assimilating power of American institutions has apparently ceased."

NATIONALISTS CONVICTED.

A colony of Nationalists established themselves at Kaweah, Kern county, California, within the limits of the Yosemite National Park. They were to carry out as near as might be the ideas embraced in Bellamy's "Looking Backward." The leaders, it appears, were swindlers, whose object was to make money, though the principles of the Nationalists is to conduct the affairs of the Government without the filthy lucre. They settled on what they knew to be a Government reservation, and induced believers in the Bellamy theory of Government to join them, not, however, without contributing liberally in coin to the common fund. As they were within the lines of the National Park they were driven out by troops sent to dislodge them and convicted of trespassing and cutting timber on the reservation.

The condition of the majority of the colonists, who came from the East upon the representations of the leaders that they would have an earthly paradise in their new homes, is said to be most distressing, many of them being unable to get the common necessities of life, having given all they possessed to the founders of the colony.

A ROOM IN WHEAT.

It is reported in Chicago that in consequence of a partial failure of the wheat crop in France and Germany, and, perhaps the probability of war, the French Government will be compelled to suspend the duties on cereals, and the German Government will be likely to take similar action. This news caused a boom in wheat, which advanced in price on Chicago.

If the assertions of a certain class of politicians, that the foreign producer pays the duty on imported articles, are true, what fools these Frenchmen and Germans must be. One would naturally suppose that they would prefer letting the American exporters of wheat pay the tariff on the grain instead of admitting it free of duty, but somehow that kind of reasoning is not accepted as logical outside the United States, and in the United States only on the eve of elections.

The Farmers' Alliance in California—A Railroad Collision—Six Postal Clerks and Two Engineers Killed.

The President in Texas.

Special to the Journal.

PALESTINE, Tex., April 18.—The President arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning and was greeted by a large crowd assembled at the station. He made a speech and held a short reception. The President was formally received by the Governor of the State and the Mayor and City Council of Palestine. The Governor was accompanied by Senator Reagan and a committee of ladies. Governor Hogg welcomed the party on behalf of the State, and Mayor Pratt on behalf of the city.

The President and Secretary Rusk both made speeches, and after a short reception the train bore the party to Houston, when the enthusiasm shown at Palestine was repeated on a much larger scale. The streets were decorated and thronged with people. The Presidential party was entertained at lunch at the Capital Hotel. A committee of ladies decorated the President's car with flowers during his absence. Postmaster General Wamamaker left the party at Palestine to visit his sister. He will rejoin the President at Galveston.

Galveston, April 18.—The President had a royal reception at Galveston this afternoon and this evening, and the people turned out en masse. A special coach containing the Galveston reception committee met the Presidential train at Houston. On the arrival of the train at Galveston, a military salute was fired. The city bells were rung and all the steamers and tugs in the harbor whistled their loudest.

The city troops, Masonic and civic organizations were present in force and all joined in cheering the distinguished visitors in a most enthusiastic manner. The demonstration was a gratifying one in every respect. The procession was quickly formed and escorted the President and party to the Mallory steamship, on which they made a short trip on the bay for the purpose of inspecting the extensive harbor improvements now in progress. Returning from the jetties the party entered carriages and joined the parade. The G. A. R. posts acted as a committee of escort to the President, marching on either side of his carriage. The rest of the line was composed of militia, Masonic and other bodies, school children, and labor organizations. The procession passed over the beautifully decorated route, one feature of which was an immense floral arch, and finally passed in review before the President. The school children threw flowers at the President's feet as they passed and built a small-sized hill in front of the stand. After the review the President and party were entertained at supper at the Beach Hotel, during which the President was serenaded by the band. The party then repaired to the balcony, where, in the presence of an immense throng of people, the President was formally welcomed to the Gulf by General Wain on behalf of the Mayor, who, though present, was too ill to speak. The President returned his thanks in a feeling speech. Addresses were also made by Governor Hogg and Secretary Rusk. A public reception followed and a fine display of fireworks ended the ceremonies.

The Surplus Disappearing.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Prospective large payments on account of pensions, public works, maturing bonds, etc., and the rather low ebb of the receipts, with resulting possibilities of the disappearance of the surplus, is causing some uneasiness among the financial officers of the Treasury. Besides endeavoring to put in circulation subsidiary silver coin, Secretary Foster has in view another plan concerning four and a half per cent. bonds amounting to $50,000,000, which will mature next September. The Secretary believes that the National Banks which hold $12,000,000 of these bonds would be glad to retain them as a basis for circulation, even at a reduced rate of interest. It is regarded as feasible, perhaps, to float these bonds at two per cent. The Secretary finds a precedent for the plan in the action of Secretary Windom in 1881.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 18.—Three white men entered the tent of Len Jung, a Chinese laborer at Sheridan Landing, early this morning, and after fatally stabbing Jung they searched the tent and carried off $450.

The Coke Strikers Again on the War-path.

Special to the Journal.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., April 18.—Hardly had the soldiers left this region before the fears of the citizens were realized, and gangs of striking cokers again turned loose their lawless passions of hate and revenge. Throughout the region all last night the earth fairly trembled with a succession of shocks following explosions of dynamite bombs at Leisnering No. 3 of the Frick Works. A crowd of strikers gathered on the hill and at one time thirty bombs were exploded simultaneously, tearing great holes in many houses and frightening the people for miles around by the terrific roar of the strikers, and trouble will follow. To-day Secretary Parker of the labor organization ordered one thousand tents for sheltering evicted persons.

A Railroad Collision, Seven Persons Killed.

Special to the Journal.

CLEVELAND, April 18.—A frightful wreck occurred on the Lake Shore Railroad at Kipton, about forty miles west of this place, this evening, in which six postal clerks and two engineers were killed. The fast mail, No. 14, bound west, collided with No. 21, the Toledo express, just as the latter was about to haul on to the siding to let the fast mail pass. The fast mail was running at full speed and the force of the collision was so great that both engines, three mail cars and one baggage car were completely wrecked. None of the passenger cars left the track and none of the passengers received serious injury.

California Farmers' Alliance.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance was in session here from Wednesday morning until Friday night. John S. Dore of Fresno was Chairman, and John Poundstone of Colusa Secretary. The books of the Treasurer, Secretary and Business Agent were examined and found in order. Reports from the State organizers showed that twenty-nine counties have been organized and that the Alliance has between 23,000 and 29,000 members in this State. The State Convention will be held in Los Angeles, October 20.

An Injunction Dissolved.

Special to the Journal.

OMAHA, April 18.—A temporary injunction, granted in the District Court, restraining the South Omaha Live Stock Exchange from prohibiting parties not members of the Exchange from selling stock at the yards, was dissolved to-day by Judge Wakeley. Action was brought by the American Live Stock Commission Co. The decision holds that the rules of the Stock Yards Company are legal and not contrary to public policy.

Indicted for Forcing Open a Ballot Box

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, April 18.—The Grand Jury today returned an indictment against Dennis Sheehan, Democratic Judge of Election, for forcibly breaking open a ballot box in the twentieth precinct of the nineteenth ward on election day. The penalty is a fine or imprisonment in the Penitentiary from one to four years.

Fire On a Revenue Cutter.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The felt covering of the boiler of the revenue cutter Chandler took fire this afternoon in some unaccountable manner while the vessel was on the way down the bay. Captain Littlefield ran the cutter alongside the dock at the quarantine, and the flames were extinguished with slight damage.

Beating the Egg Tariff.

The Toomstone Prospector says: Since the duty on eggs has been the rule many devices have been thought of for manufacturing them. The idea of a Nogales man is, however, the only feasible scheme up to date. His proposition is to feed hens on the cheap grain of Mexico and have them lay in the United States. For this purpose a long building will be placed on the line, half in Mexico and half in the United States. They will feed and water in the Mexican end, and when they want to lay they go to the further end of the building, and in that way escape paying the duty. The projector of this enterprise came from Maine.

Church Services.

Methodist Episcopal Church—Sunday, April 19, 1891. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. F. V. Fisher, at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Evening subject: "Absalom, the Fast Young Man." All invited.

Congregational Church—Services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. Magill, at 7:30 P. M. to day. Sunday School at 12 M. The public is cordially invited.

Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, who, notwithstanding his crookedness, is chairman of the Republican National Executive Committee, wants the National Convention held in April or May next year. He says that he will call the Committee together in November and that the members will vote for his scheme. The idea is that the weather is too warm in June or July to hold National Conventions.

Many Small Amounts.

It is worth noting, as an exemplification of the value of small things, that it is not customary to pay fractions of a penny on dividends on government stocks, and that some few years since these accumulated fractions amounted to $143,000! This nice little nest egg was handed over to the chancellor of the exchequer.—Chambers' Journal.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. Price, 50¢. Prepared only by U. L. Colonel John Rosser of Carson went to California last night.

G. C. Thaxter of Carson was a passenger for the Bay last night.

L. D. Folsom, of Folsom & Wells, left for California last night.

Senator McDonnell of Storey county left for San Francisco last night.

Abe Scott of Fish Springs, in the northern part of the county, is in Reno.

J. B. Cain drew his watch last evening in Hyman Fredrick's watch club drawing.

Dr. Dawson left for Long Valley, California, yesterday on professional business.

Col. Hardin arrived last evening from Santa Rosa, Cal., and will remain a few days in Reno.

Barney Horn, the cattle man, was in Reno yesterday and left for San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

O. C. Wallace, Assessor of Eureka county, arrived in Reno night before last on his way to Virginia City.

Company C., N. N. G., will hold their regular drill meeting to-morrow evening. All members are requested to be in attendance.

The Austin Revelle is informed by the sheep shearers that the fleeces of flocks in that vicinity are heavier than they have been for years.

Travel is increasing on the Central Pacific road, which, being the central and shortest route across the continent, has advantages over other roads.

Thomas Lovejoy, Justice of the Peace at Folsom, California, has been sentenced to the California State Prison at Folsom for two years for grand larceny.

W. H. Young & Co. are manufacturing the combination fence, the cheapest and most convenient fence yet invented, and will promptly fill orders for the same.

In Paradise Valley, according to the Silver State, roads were so thick after a shower one day last week that horses in traveling along the roads killed hundreds of them.

The Oyhee Avalanche says that to prevent horse stealing in Southeastern Idaho any "buckaroo" wanting to hire to stockmen, if he be a stranger, will have to show a certificate of character.

Judge Rising will open court in Reno Monday morning at 8 o'clock to transact any pressing business, and will return to Virginia on the morning train to receive the report of the Storey county Grand Jury.

District Attorney Plummer of Elko county, in a communication to the Independent, shows that the actual saving to the county by the laws enacted by the late Legislature will not amount $1,000 instead of $9,000 as was boastfully proclaimed.

Bismarck lacked about 1,000 votes of having a majority for member of the Reichstag at Gesteinund, where there were four candidates in the field. Unless he retires from the contest, which is quite probable, he is certain to be chosen at the supplementary election.

Sara Bernhardt, the inimitable, is to appear at the Grand Opera House, in San Francisco, for six nights, commencing next Friday, and already over $15,000 has been taken in for seats, thousands of which are yet to be sold. Sara has talent, the people know it and pay to see it.

The original "grip" after having been the rounds of the United States and Mexico, has been captured by Agent Smith of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express office. It is very much dilapidated, in fact, completely used up, and is covered with labels bearing the names of some of its victims.

It is reported that there will be a change in the time of the arrival of the passenger trains on the Central Pacific May 1st. The old time table will be re-adopted, which will bring the train from the West here about an hour later, and the mail train from the East about two and a half hours earlier.

The Susanville Advocate says: The society reporter of a contemporary, in speaking of the bell of the ball wrote: "Her dainty feet were incased in shoes that might have been taken for fairy boots," but the blundering compositor made it read: "Her dirty feet were incased in shoes that might have been taken for ferry boats." That reporter has resigned.

J. O. Fairbanks, well known in Humboldt county, died at Lima, Montana, March 29th. He and his wife, Mrs. Carrie Fairbanks, now a resident of Reno, were among the first settlers on the Humboldt river, and located the ranch and water right in 1863, now called the Bliss place, which occasioned the big water suit in Winnemucca. The Indians were then on the war path, but Mrs. Fairbanks, who was frequently left alone during her husband's absence on business, remained on the ranch when stalwart men were afraid to do so. At one time it was reported that the family was massacred and a party of armed men went to the ranch and found Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks had not been molested by the Indians.

A dispatch from Susanville says E. E. Dixon, one of the proprietors of the Advocate and a brother of Register Dixon of the United States Land Office, is being tried for horse stealing. He is accused of being the leader of a gang of horse thieves who infested Northern California and Southern Oregon.

A syndicate is said to be organized to control the cattle market east of Ogden. According to report it has purchased nearly a million acres of land in Missouri, where cattle from the western ranges will be fattened on corn before they are marketed. The stockmen say they have been forced to do this by the action of the Government expelling them from the Cherokee strip and other grazing districts.

Charles Bronson informed a police official at San Jose that he had been approached to fire the building of a person who wanted the insurance on it. The officer told him to go ahead and do it so that positive proof could be obtained. Bronson made the arrangement with the owner of the property and fired it and it burned adjoining property. Bronson was tried for arson but the jury acquitted him.

The members of the Riverside Club, some 21 couples, who attended the O. N. O. Club's dance at Carson night before last, say they were royally treated and had a very pleasant time. There was a large attendance at the dance, the music was good and the supper sumptuous. The Riverside returned about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and are lavish in their praises of the O. N. O.'s and Carsonites generally.

There was a tidal wave on Lake Leavitt, in Lassen county, Cal., last week. The Susanville Advocate says two years ago the bed of the lake was dry and dusty. Now it is filled with water, and last week the wind started wavelets from the southwest side and by the time they reached the northeast shore they had grown into huge billows twelve feet high, washing over the ridge which bounds the lake and spreading over ranches on the opposite side.

Fish Commissioner Mills is stocking the Truckee with Eastern brook trout. Yesterday 200,000 (estimated) of these fish were brought by rail from the State hatchery at Carson and placed in a pond on C. H. Stoddard's place above town, where they will be turned into the river when they get to be a few months older. These trout ought to do well in the Truckee, which, if the sawdust is kept out, is generally a clear mountain stream, with tributaries in which brook trout should feel at home.

Another two-dollar counterfeit silver certificate has been received by the Treasury Department. It is of the series of 1886, check letter B, 1883. The note bears the portrait of General Hancock, and is signed by W. S. Rosecrans as Register and James W. Hyatt as United States Treasurer. The "1" in "Register" is not dotted, and the "1" in "States" is not crossed. The geometrical lath-work is well done. The back of the counterfeit is excellently executed, and the general appearance of the note is likely to deceive even the most expert.

The Trustees of the Steamboat Canal Company, which was organized a few days ago, have organized and elected the following officers: S. O. Wells, President; D. C. Wheeler, Vice President; Johnson Dixon, Superintendent; A. G. Fletcher, Secretary and First National Bank, Treasurer. This company has succeeded to the control of the Truckee and Steamboat Canal. The new management has been making some extensive repairs on the ditch and will be ready by the 25th to supply customers with water, which is several weeks earlier than usual.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO.

Items From the "Journal" of 1870.

On the 26th of December a slight shock of earthquake was felt in Reno, Washoe, Glendale and other portions of the county.

February 9th there was a light fall of rain in Reno and vicinity, accompanied by high winds, and on the 19th green peas and new potatoes were offered for sale in the markets.

On the 22d the Odd Fellows gave an installation ball at Lake's Hotel in Reno and eighty tickets were sold at $5 each.

On the 22d of March George Hymers fell from a cart and broke his arm, and on the 9th of May the citizens of Reno held a meeting to take measures for the prevention of small pox among the Indians.

About this time Smith Hill commenced preparations to introduce water into Reno; the Masons and Odd Fellows located a cemetery; the school census showed that there were 164 children in Reno district between the ages of six and eighteen.

Steps were taken by the Methodists toward the erection of a church edifice and $1,600 was raised by subscription for that purpose.

June 14th a special election for the location of the county seat was held throughout the county, and the majority in favor of locating it in Reno was 192.

In July the population of Reno was 1,200, and there were no vacant houses in the town.

August 31st Wells, Fargo & Co.'s stage was stopped by two men about five miles from Reno and the treasure box robbed of $1,300.

Dyer's stage to Carson was stopped near the Tamelec mill and robbed by three men armed with shotguns.

November 5th the east-bound passenger train on the C. P. R. R. was boarded at Verdi by a gang of five men, who detached the engine and express car, and ran them down the road to within five miles of Reno, where they stopped them and robbed the express car of $41,600.

SHENANDOAH.

Bronson Howard's Greatest Triumph.

Bronson Howard's "Shenandoah," which has met with such pronounced success everywhere presented, will be produced at McKissick's Opera House for one night on Saturday, April 25th. It will be presented with its superb cast of players, and in the same elaborate manner that characterized its success all over the English speaking world. In this play Mr. Howard has contrived to dramatize a story of the late civil war, without introducing any incident that might justly wound the sensibilities of either Northerner or Southerner. It is described as a comedy with threads of romance beaming through it. The care with which Mr. Howard has done all of his work, the delicate treatment which he has given subjects readily inviting the force of exaggeration, and the fine realism, with a series of consecutive stage successes, seem to entitle him to consideration as the foremost of American dramatists of this day. The acting has already been commended by these columns, and the reason that Shenandoah has and always will draw crowded houses, is that its very line and situation is full of real human interest. Its story, while not being dramatically powerful, is one that thrills every beholder. There is nothing so stinging to the blood, nothing so rouses the average man, as the sound of the martial music, the boom of the cannon and the rattle of the musketry. Thus when we see our boys in blue, retreating in broken ranks across the valley of Shenandoah, and Sheridan who is twenty miles away, who is there among us that does not feel like springing from his seat and crying, "Charge boys charge! On comrades on." and rush into the fray, as the gallant colonel West rushed in, with his wounds yet unhealed and his strength not yet returned. A man is not half a man that does not feel the spirit of war rise high within him when he witnesses a scene like that. It is when we emerge from the conventional lethargy of our day and feel akin to heroes, feel that for our country we would do and dare and die. In the last act the war is over. The oldiers are returning home, and the action is in Washington. The lovers are all united, misunderstandings explained and everybody happy.

Those who contemplate renovating their houses should not forget the immense stock of wall paper at the store of the Reno Mill and Lumber Co., on Second street, next door to the Postoffice. *

HELD TO ANSWER.

The Examination of Hale, Alias Horn.

The preliminary examination of Thomas C. Hale, alias Horn, took place yesterday before Justice Linn. District Attorney Julien and Judge Currier appeared as counsel for the State and G. W. Baker and J. L. Wines for the defendant. Timothy Pollard testified that the defendant was the person who robbed the bank. Constable Upson testified that he arrested the defendant.

The defendant offered no testimony and he was held to answer before the Grand Jury with bail fixed at $1,000. Being unable to give that amount he went to jail, but is said to be expecting money from Denver.

"Why will you take the boat, Jeremy?
Why, my boy, will you go?
The wind is high and the tide is low.
The rocks are bare as a whale's bleached bones.
And out in the bay there the sandbar moans—
Jeremy!
You're the last son of your mother.
The sea has left me no other.
"Last night the air was still, Jeremy.
But the ocean could not rest;
The old moon held the new moon on her breast.
Rocking it there like an ailing child.
At dawn to the eastward the fog was piled.
Jeremy.
And the sun was red as an oven.
And the water with wind streaks cloven."
"I must take the boat," said Jeremy.
"Mother, whatever befell me.
They are many—I hear them—who call me.
My father, the captain, my brothers seven.
Are under the sea and their souls in heaven.
"Jeremy!
They call me—the southern's a-brewing—
They bid me be up and doing.
"There's a wreck in the offing," said Jeremy
"I cannot see, but I know it.
They have put forth a boat with two men
to row it;
They drift on the waves, and my brothers beneath—
I must get let me go, if it be to my death!
My father calls me to wrestle
For the life of the crew of that vessel!"
Away in his boat went Jeremy.
His mother stood wringing her hands;
The waves ran up in a crowd on the sands.
The storm descended and smote the sea,
And the shouts of the wind were as evil set free.
"Jeremy!"
But her cry was blown back in her throat.
And her son went down with his boat.
—E. Cavazza in Youth's Companion.

Out of Kilter.
Kilter or kelter was an "Anglicism"
long before it was an "Americanism."
Skinner, in 1871, has "Kelter; he is not yet in kelter, nondum est paratus." It is also given in a reprint of Ray's collection of 1891. The k before i points to a Scandinavian origin. Cf. Dan. kilte, to truss, tucked up, whence E. kilt. Rietz gives Swed. dial. kilter band, a band for holding up tucked up clothes; kiltrasig, to gird up, tucked up, and fasten. The metaphor is obvious enough.
This word kelter, as it should be spelled, is given in Johnson's Dictionary, and derived from the Danish kelter, to gird. A quotation is given from Barrow's works, where the word is used.
Bailey in his Etymological Dictionary derives it from the Latin cultura. Halliwell ("Dictionary of Archæic and Provincial Words") gives it as used in the east of England both as a substantive and as a verb. It is a word of every-day use in Surrey and Sussex, in the sense of order or condition. The Rev. W. D.
Parish, in his "Dictionary of the Sussex Dialect," notices it in the phrase, "This farm seems in very good kelter." I have often heard it used in the same way, and anything that is out of condition is described as being "out of kelter."
On reference to the publications of the English Dialect society it will be seen that the word is of very general use throughout England. In the neighborhood of Whitby it occurs as a verb and a substantive, and in the mid and east Yorkshire glossaries also; it is used also in west Cornwall, Hampshire and the Isle of Wight. In west Somerset, in Sheffield and in Huddersfield the word means money. These references will be sufficient to show that the expression is not an Americanism, but that the word has found, and still finds, a place in vernacular English.—Notes and Queries.

A Useful Article.
"Why, how odd this had never been thought of before!" said a visitor at a woman's exchange of the city. She had in her hand a pretty knitted article, which was a baby's bottle cozy. For railway travel or to go out with Miss Baby in her own little carriage they are of great service in keeping the milk warm, and also, as they are knitted double, to offer protection against breakage. Some padded ones were also seen, but are not so serviceable as the knitted ones, as they do not fit so closely to the bottle.—New York Times.

A Boon for Bachelors.
The advantages of a pocket that has no sewed seams and cannot rip and that is neat and smooth in the garment are such as will be appreciated by every masculine reader. Such a pocket is the invention of an ingenious Yankee, who culls his device a safety seamless pocket.
The peculiarity of these pockets is that they are woven complete in one piece.
No stitching or sewing is necessary to make them ready for use, but they are turned out by the loom in the exact form in which they are required for trousers.
